COURT ISSUES MARITIME STRIKE INJUNCTION

Seize Texan Driving Human Freight

Three Mexicans demonstrate how they were brought from Texas to Chicago in a false-bottomed truck. Chicago police seized 39 Mexicans, who had been smuggled across the border into Texas. They arrested Reynaldo Sanchez, of San Benito, Tex., an American citizen, who drove the truck. The 39, riding beneath a load of cantaloupes, were believed destined for cheap farm and factory labor, but police turned them over to immigration officials.

Senate On Overtime; Hope To Pass Trade Agreements Act Today

WASHINGTON, June 14—The rule committee voted 6-4 today to send the draft bill to the Senate floor for debate later this week.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 14—Republican leaders told the Senate on an overtime scheduled today as Congress drove to wind up its business and adjourn next Saturday.

Senator Wherry (Neb.) acting Republican leader, told reporters there will be a night session of the Senate today.

The chamber is scheduled to vote at 5 p. m. on legislation to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act.

Wherry said he hopes the Senate can pass tonight bills to provide funds for the Interior department, the Navy and a number of government corporations.

He said debate on the long-range farm bill is scheduled to start tomorrow.

Half a dozen major bills may be brushed into discard in the drive to have Congress quit Saturday.

Congressional leaders have said privately only a reversal of adjournment plans can save the oleomargarine tax repealer, pay raises for federal employees, the anti-Communism bill, Tidlands measure, an anti-lynch bill and an anti-poll tax proposal.

While there is no certainty that the 80th Congress will close up shop for keeps at the end of the week, that is the target being aimed at by Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), each boss of his branch of Congress.

Both believe they can make it.

COMMUNIST CZECH PRESIDENT ELECTED

(By Associated Press)

PRAGUE, June 14—Czechoslovakia's first Communist president was elected and took office today.

Premier Klement Gottwald was elected by a show of 296 hands in a public parliamentary election held in 16th century Vladislavsky hall, and was hailed by Speaker Oldrich John as "a Socialist President in a Socialist country."

Apart from Gottwald and a woman deputy who resigned three days ago, only two voters were not accounted for among the 300 members of parliament, who include 214 Communist party members.

LISBON MAN DIES IN RAIL ACCIDENT

LISBON, June 14—Services for James Steve, 67, of 621 N. Beaver st., who was killed when hit by a train in Youngstown Saturday, will be held at the Ellis-Leggett funeral home at 2 p. m. Tuesday, in charge of Rev. John Sarantos.

Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Taft, Dewey Neck And Neck On 1st Ballot; Tieup Due

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
INS Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 14—Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, are neck and neck today in first ballot strength for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft, however, will draw ahead of Dewey on the second ballot.

The balance of power, on the third ballot, will rest with (1) the followers of Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, (2) the badly split Pennsylvania delegation, (3) Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, (4) Speaker Joseph W. Martin, of Massachusetts, and (5) Gov. Earl Warren, of California.

These are the conclusions drawn from the continuing International News Service poll of Republican delegations to the convention meeting in Philadelphia a week from today.

There are many signs of an early convention choice without a prolonged deadlock.

The Stassen organization, if it would vote as a unit, could give either Taft or Dewey so great a boost as to make his nomination practically certain.

A solid Pennsylvania delegation, joining with Martin and Warren could determine a winner between the Ohioan and New Yorker. In fact, the three "dark horses," Vandenberg, Martin and Warren, by throwing their followers to one or the other, could nominate either Taft or Dewey.

This makes observers believe there will be an early decision in the convention.

The International News Service poll shows this first ballot strength: Taft, 284 delegates; Dewey, 273 delegates; Stassen, 149 delegates.

The second ballot poll shows: Taft, 388 delegates; Dewey, 304 delegates; Stassen, 149 delegates.

The rest of the first ballot should be: Sen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania, 73; Gov. Dwight H. Green, Indiana, 58; Vandenberg, 45; Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, New Jersey, 35; Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts, 34; Rep. Charles Halleck, Indiana, 29; Carroll Reece, Tennessee, 22; Sen. Raymond Baldwin, Connecticut, 19; John Townsend, Delaware, 9; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 9, and Speaker Martin, 3.

The rest of the second ballot should show:

Sen. Vandenberg, 62; Speaker Martin, 56; Gov. Warren, 53, and Gen. MacArthur, 9.

Delegation Warning

The Pennsylvania delegation is listed as "undecided" on the second ballot because of the intra-party warfare in that state. Gov. James E. Duff is warring with Mason Owlett, the Republican national committee man. Duff is willing to support Vandenberg, Martin or Taft, in that order, while Owlett is battling for a Dewey delegation. Observers are unwilling now to predict the outcome.

On the second ballot, Taft should be 160 shy and Dewey 244 short of the 548 delegates needed for nomination. Taft, having the shorter road to victory, will have an edge over Dewey.

If Stassen threw his support solidly to Taft, the Ohioan would be 11 short, and by that time he would be nominated. The Stassen support thrown solidly to Dewey would

Truman To Speak In Columbus, Other Stops

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14—President Truman may make one and possibly several brief talks in Ohio next Thursday.

As his schedule now stands, aides said yesterday, Truman will arrive in Columbus about 6 p. m. Thursday and speak there. They said there also was a possibility he will make brief talks at other stops in Ohio.

He will pass through Ohio en route from Indianapolis to Pittsburgh.

Pottery Show June 10

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 14—The annual pottery and glass show will be held at the William Penn hotel in Pittsburgh Jan. 10-14. It was announced here today.

The dates were set by directors of the Associated Glass and Pottery Manufacturers after a dinner meeting.

leave him 95 shy but it would create enough of a bandwagon effect to push Dewey on to victory. Other combinations would have the same outcome.

Thus far, there are no public signs of any coalition movement. In fact, followers of the "dark horses" plan to hold their groups intact in hopes of a deadlock.

Until recently, Vandenberg held the favorite's role among the "dark horses" but his stock began to sink. This left Speaker Martin as the favorite among the "dark horses." But Warren and Sen. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, have been mentioned more frequently in the past 10 days.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SEES TREND TOWARD BALLOT HOLDOUT

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 14—A new holdout trend among favorite sons threatens today to stretch out the Republican national convention's presidential balloting.

Followers of some major candidates report several of their colleagues with single-state backing have become increasingly cagey about making any second or third ballot promises of support.

Gov. Earl Warren, for instance, has served blunt notice to those who have been wooing his backing that he is going to hold on to California's 53 votes for several ballots at Philadelphia to see what happens.

Warren's friends contend he has a better chance for the nomination than anyone else if none of the big four most frequently mentioned candidates go through. These are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Senator Robert A. Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

The feeling has been growing among Republicans generally that the convention beginning June 21 will develop into a drawn out fight for the nomination.

Stassen's latest prediction that he will win the prize on the ninth ballot is a sample of how that thinking goes.

Dewey, however, insists he will cop the prize "after not too many ballots."

The New Yorker gave a "definitely not" response to reporters who asked him whether he looks for a prolonged deadlock.

Warren, also on hand for the meeting, sidestepped questions about his own chances. He said, however, he intends to talk to as many other governors as possible.

There are indications that Taft, like Dewey, believes the issue will be settled fairly soon, but Rep. Clarence Brown, Taft's manager has said there may be seven ballots.

Ordinarily Republicans nominate a President speedily. It took six tries for them to pick the late Wendell L. Willkie in 1940, but only one to settle on Dewey in 1944. One ballot had decided the issue in the four conventions preceding 1940.

The modern record was set in 1920 when it required 10 votes to pick Warren G. Harding. The all-time record was in 1880, when James Garfield was chosen on the thirty-sixth.

Republicans — without the two-thirds nominating rule the Democrats had until 1936 — never reached the proportions of indecision which brought that party's 103 ballots in 1924 when John W. Davis was chosen.

But many GOP members think that this year it's going to be more difficult to settle on a man than it has since 1920.

This thought has made the favorite sons wary.

NURSES WILL GET DIPLOMAS THURSDAY

Eight student nurses who will be graduated from the Salem City hospital School of Nursing Thursday, were honored at a baccalaureate service held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church.

The group was addressed by Rev. David E. McCreath on the topic "How Long Has It Been?" He stressed that habits play a big part in our lives, and that it is important to cultivate good habits early in life.

The graduating class includes Audrey Chamberlain and Dorothy Dickey of Lisbon, Barbara Enright of North Lima, Barbara Felsen of Hanoverton, Phyllis Gross and Lou Jean McDevitt of Salem, Delpha Ward of Sebring and Patricia Grim of Pittsburgh.

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in Holy Trinity Lutheran church.

MAINTAIN U. S. ECONOMY, PLEA FROM SAWYER

Tells Advertisers That Best Protection Is Strong Home Life

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, June 14—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer today said America's gravest responsibility is to maintain its own robust economy.

Speaking before the Advertising Federation of America's 44th annual convention, Sawyer said this is necessary "because the very possibility of creating and maintaining a free, peaceful world is based upon the existence of a strong, productive and prosperous American economy."

"American prosperity and productivity at this time are a protection to all those devastated by war; a first line of defense, all across the world, for those who are under dire military and economic pressure," he continued.

Explaining that Public Law 395 had been passed recently in the hope voluntary agreements in industry would remove any necessity for imposition of price controls, the commerce secretary said:

Seek Solutions

"We are meeting continually with industry advisory committees to determine what important products are in critical short supply, what manufacturing bottlenecks exist and what agreements in industry can remedy the situation."

"The problem of shortages which occurs throughout our domestic economy is equally pressing overseas and frequently the same shortages exist at home and abroad. Our foreign and domestic problems are inextricably tied together; in fact, it is one problem."

Using steel as an example of the problem, Secretary Sawyer said steel is basic to the restoration of European production.

"If we send too little, we delay European Recovery and involve ourselves in a relief program of indefinite duration and very great expense," he explained, "on the other hand, if we send too much, we detract from our own strength and make it impossible for our country to meet its obligations either at home or abroad."

He commended the choice of Paul Hoffman and W. Averell Harriman to handle the European Aid Program and quoted from the Harriman committee report on dangers of inflation.

"We talk of combatting Communism. It is clear that nothing could more effectively promote dissatisfaction with our present system or a desire to try some other one, than run-away inflation in the United States," Sawyer said.

"For over 100 years, the Communists have preached that the surest way to lay low a capitalistic system is to debase its currency," he declared, and advised:

"If we feel the need to fight the ideology of Communism, the best way to do it is to strengthen our own economic system."

MAN INJURED WHEN CAR STRIKES TREE

Three cars were damaged and one person injured in two traffic accidents in Salem over the weekend, police reported.

Michael D'Orto of 457 Aetna st. suffered undetermined injuries when he lost control of his car on N. Ellsworth ave. at 5:20 a. m. Sunday. The vehicle left the road, hit a ditch and a tree in the front yard of the William O'Neill residence.

He was taken to the Central Clinic for observation and X-rays. The left side of the car was demolished and the right fender and trunk were damaged.

James E. Trotter of 357 W. State st. told police a car driven by Gerald M. Fiber of Wellsville collided with the rear of his car at 4:05 p. m. Saturday at the corner of 10th and Ellsworth.

The trunk of the Trotter car was caved in, while the right front fender was damaged and the bumper guard loosened on Fiber's vehicle.

MAN HIT, KILLED IN EAST PALESTINE

EAST PALESTINE, June 14—Homer H. Rosenbaum, 57, was killed instantly Sunday at 2:10 a. m. while walking along a road here when struck by a car operated by Arthur Wilhelm, 38, of East Palestine, police reported.

Wilhelm surrendered to police about a half hour after the body was discovered by policemen in a cruiser.

They said Wilhelm told them he finished work about 1 a. m. and went to a tavern for a beer. When returning from the tavern he continued home. After his arrival there, he said he began to worry about whether anyone had been hit and got a neighbor to take him to the police station. They arrived just as police started a search for the driver.

Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgis withheld a verdict pending completion of an investigation.

The victim is survived by two sisters and three brothers. Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. from the Oliver funeral home. Burial will be in Glenview cemetery.

BURCHFIELD GIVEN FINE ARTS DEGREE

Charles E. Burchfield, former resident of Salem, received the honorary degree of Doctor of Fine Arts from Harvard college on Thursday and the honorary degree of Doctor of Arts from Hamilton college, Clinton, N. Y., Sunday.

Burchfield, born in Ashtabula, had his early education in Salem schools and was graduated from the Cleveland School of Art. He was one of the earliest exhibitors in the famous May shows of Cleveland Museum of Art, from which he received the Penton medal in 1921. In 1942 he received the award of merit of the Academy of Arts and Letters in New York; in 1944 the Chancellors medal of the University of Buffalo; in 1946 the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters of Keaton college, Gambier.

The Fogg Museum in Boston owns three of his watercolors. Edward W. Root, formerly professor and now a member of the board of trustees of Hamilton College, has a small gallery of his own adjacent to the college which houses his collection of Burchfields, the largest in the country.

Mr. Burchfield how lives outside of Buffalo. His sister, Louise, is assistant curator of paintings of the Cleveland Museum of Art.

Threatening Seven Shipworkers Unions Will Contest Order

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 14—A U. S. district judge today granted the government a temporary injunction restraining a threatened nationwide strike of more than 100,000 maritime workers.

The strike had been threatened by the seven unions involved for any time after tomorrow midnight. It would involve dock workers on the east, gulf and west coasts as well as the seamen who man most of the nation's merchant shipping.

The injunction, asked by the department of justice acting under orders from President Truman, was granted by Federal Judge John W. Clancy.

The injunction specifically named the National Maritime union, the Marine Engineers Beneficial association, and the American Radio association, all CIO affiliates, as well as unlicensed shipping personnel and 54 shipping companies. Injunctions affecting the other unions involved were expected to be filed in the other cities today.

Judge Clancy's order also restrains the ship operators from locking out union workers.

Threat Ends

A strike has been threatened by seven unions for any time after tomorrow midnight when their contract expires.

The petition, filed in U. S. district court, asked the court to order the unions and the ship operators to resume collective bargaining "in good faith."

Before the petition was filed, Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime union—largest of the seven—had said his union would not "defy" the law. He added that it "will fight to the limit" against the injunction in court.

The Justice department charged the threatened tieup endangered industry and if permitted to occur would imperil the national health and safety.

Unless enjoined, the complaint continued, the impending walkout would cause the United States to "suffer irreparable injury for which it has no adequate remedy at law."

The suit was filed by Joseph M. Friedman, special assistant to Attorney General Tom Clark. The department acted under instructions from President Truman who said last Saturday a maritime walkout would affect the nation's public health and safety.

LIVERPOOL STRIKE STILL DEADLOCKED

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 14—The Valley Motor Transit Co. and spokesmen for its striking drivers were unable to agree Saturday afternoon on a solution to a wage dispute that has idled bus service for Ohio Valley communities since a week ago today.

But another meeting was scheduled in an effort to draw up a new one-year wage agreement and end the transportation tie-up.

The company and union negotiators agreed to meet again Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Commissioner W. W. Powell of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service revealed the Saturday meeting was fruitless, but did not give details. It was presumed the company's offer of a 15-cent raise—the same wage boost written into a new agreement with bus-horn employees signed last Wednesday—

It is contingent on East Liverpool and Steubenville councils granting fare increases.

The company said today it had nothing to add to the conciliator's terse announcement. Julius Schaefer, president of the Steubenville Bus Drivers' local, also had no comment. William B. Swaney, head of the drivers' organization here, could not be reached for comment.

Drivers halted work at the end of their runs early last Monday, backing up demands for a 30-cent hourly raise. Previously, union members had voted against accepting a 13-cent offer.

Making Germany Strong
BY JAMES THRASHER

The six-power agreement on western Germany seems good as far as it goes. That is about all that can be expected from such an agreement, which is essentially only a blueprint for action. But at least the six governments have faced up to the most immediate and important problems, and have achieved a respectable compromise.

The history of the last 30 years, and particularly the last three, had left them little room for argument on these basic facts:

Russia's obstructionist policy makes Big Four agreement on a peace treaty for all of Germany impossible at this time.

The recovery of western Europe depends on the strengthening of German industry. At the same time industrial production and distribution must be carefully controlled.

Germany must be started toward self-government. But a strongly centralized, independent Germany would again become a danger to world peace.

Russia is making a strong bid for popularity with talk of a "unified" Germany. This appeals more to the tradition of German political thought than the promise of a loosely-federated democracy, though the intelligent German must know that this "unified" Germany would be a police-ruled satellite of the Communist empire.

These are ingredients of the complicated situation that the six governments tackled when they met in London. France and her neighbors brought with them a well-founded fear of Germany, based on two devastating invasions in this century. They may not have got all they wanted, but they did receive some comforting assurances.

The United States and Britain will not withdraw their troops from Germany "until the peace of Europe is secured." This obviously means that the occupation will last as long as there is a threat of war with Russia.

The occupying powers will have the power of veto over any constitution drawn up by the western German states. They will have control over Germany's disarmament and demilitarization, and over the level of industrial production and certain projects of scientific research.

Specifically, the production and distribution of the Ruhr industries will be in the hands of the occupying powers. Access to the Ruhr's coal, coke and steel will be open to the co-operating Marshall plan countries. An inspection system will be set up to continue these safeguards when the occupation is finally ended.

Now that the blueprint is finished the delicate job of administration must be considered. This will call for highest statesmanship and wisest judgment. The responsibility lies heaviest on the American and British governments.

Recently there have been a lot of rumors that private business interests are working for a moderate control of Ruhr production in the hope of a big clean-up when that production gets rolling. Any such finagling, of course, would be a catastrophe.

It will be a difficult job to keep Germany economically strong and politically harmless. But it must be done. For if it is not a revived Reich might finally succeed in bringing about a war between Russia and the west, and emerge as the ruling power of a wrecked Europe. To avoid this it will be necessary to do more than govern by military order. The limited renaissance of Germany will require management that is not only intelligent, but incorruptible.

The 'Worst' Congress

President Truman's use of "worst" in describing the 80th congress has reminded observers that in 1946 he termed the 79th congress "the worst since Andrew Johnson's." This business of handing out derogatory labels is a bootless one, likely to backfire.

Certainly the President has had a far more cooperative congress than Andrew Johnson had. The issues of reconstruction and the tenure of office bill generated such heat that Johnson was stymied at every turn. Finally that unhappy executive was brought up on an impeachment charge that lost by one vote.

President Truman has had no such opposition. In Senator Vandenberg he has had a formidable Republican spokesman on many occasions with regard to foreign policy. The President vetoed the Taft-Hartley act but he had occasion to use its provisions to prevent a rail strike and end a coal strike.

True, the President has been confronted by a majority opposition in both houses. But it isn't the nature of a majority opposition to become the rubber stamp for a minority President under any circumstances.

Before the President makes a practice of handing out "worst" labels, he should recall what happened to Andrew Johnson. When he was in the White House, the air was full of dead cats — most of them flying in his direction.

Growing Pains

The Washington Post, observing the 15th anniversary of its control by Eugene Meyer, published a special section on Sunday of milestones since 1933. This composite picture of national growing pains over a decade and a half reveals not only the rise and fall of new deans as a political force, but the events leading up to World War II, the emergence of the United States as a world power and provides glimpses of other momentous matters that occupied men's minds during the period — everything from Shirley Temple to interlocking, from Dillinger to sit-down strikes, from the Dönitz quintuplets to the release of atomic energy.

It reveals something else — that the Washington Post has gained stature in the newspaper field by doing an outstanding job in the capital of the United States. Washington has learned to respect the Post, and the respect is mutual. Mr. Meyer's little newspaper has earned all its fame and fortune by being on the inside of the nation's affairs.

Freeze-Out In A Cold War

Renewal of Russian interference with rail traffic from western Germany into Berlin was expected as a result of last week's moves to set up a provisional government for Germans under western control. It was the obvious counterattack in the cold war.

The western powers are at an obvious disadvantage in this kind of a freeze-out. They can be pestered endlessly by Russian moves calculated to annoy them in the Berlin area and to make the position of their officials there untenable.

They can be robbed of prestige in the eyes of Germans in both the Russian and western zones. Their costs of military occupation can be made exorbitant. This can be done, moreover, in a way that will make it difficult for them to force a showdown. It will be a repetition of the freeze-out carried on by the Japanese in China during the 1930's when the western powers were backed down step by step at the expense of their prestige.

The issue is whether the Russians will be able to get away with it by steps just a little short of war without precipitating an incident that would make war unavoidable. What has seemed up to now to be a remote possibility can become an immediate probability if the Kremlin decides to make it that way.

For Tuesday, June 15
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ADVERSE planetary configurations are likely to create a difficult, dangerous and generally dubious state of affairs. Major interests are at stake, concerning credit, finances, position, agreements and joint issues in all relationships.

Understandings or pledges may be nullified, by bad judgment, fraudulent securities, extravagance, bombast or any form of misrepresentation. These combine to shake the confidence of those in influence who are interested. Duplicitous and treachery may also pervade the social or romantic environment and the guard against all losses.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are likely to encounter a year of treachery, fraud, misrepresentation and loss, not only due to unworthy intentions or plans, but to confused judgment, mistaken confidence, betrayals and intrigues affecting all forms of partnerships, joint issues or contracts of major significance. Be cautious with all writings, documents and agreements, and refrain from extravagance, prodigality, rash use of funds as well as energies or other assets. Keep prudent and practical in all investments and outlay. Guard reputation.

A child born on this day may suffer many losses and frustrations by its own extravagance, prodigality, and imprudence as well as the treachery of others.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Symptoms That Need Attention

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Many more people have gallbladder trouble than ever suspect it. It is estimated that among those over 40, at least one person in ten has some type of gallbladder disease. The classic symptoms—pain in the right upper part of the abdomen, a feeling of fullness after eating, sickness at the stomach—are all experienced from time to time, but nothing is done about them because the discomfort is passing. The sufferer believes he has had only a "touch of indigestion."

It goes without saying that such symptoms as these, particularly if they are repeated, demand a thorough examination. This may include X-rays of the gallbladder area. Gallstones will not always show in an X-ray plate, but most of them do. In any case, with newer methods of X-ray examination, it is possible to determine if the gallbladder is functioning or working as it should. After such careful study it is possible for the physician to determine just what type of treatment will be most effective.

Careful Dieting

In some instances, even though stones are present, operation may not be necessary. In many cases, whether there are stones or only continued inflammation, known as chronic cholecystitis, treatment may include careful dieting, reduction of weight, and exercising. With mild symptoms attacks may be completely prevented by following the proper diet and eliminating certain food.

I have outlined some diets for gallbladder disease to aid you in following your physician's instructions. I shall be glad to send them to you if you will write, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Depends on Symptoms

The exact type of diet to be used depends to a great extent on the symptoms present. In some cases it may be wise to cut down on the fats in the diet since these stimulate contractions of the gallbladder. On the other hand, such contractions may be desirable in order to speed up the flow of the bile and, in these instances, the inclusion of fats in the diet may be helpful.

Above all, do not neglect what you believe may be a gallbladder disturbance. Consult your physician so that he may be able to determine just what disorder is present, and follow the advice which he gives you so that your difficulty may be eliminated.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. C.: I have a dull, aching pain in my ankle. Pain runs down my leg to my ankle. It is worse in the morning. What is the cause?

Answer: The cause of this condition can only be determined by means of a careful examination. It may be due to arthritis or inflammation of the ankle joints, or to some disturbance of the circulation or nervous system. When the cause is found, proper treatment can be advised.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

What's the Nimblest Number on the highway?

That's a big question, taking in a lot of territory, and we'd be the last to deny you the right to your opinion.

But, sir — before you slip up behind this tidy SUPER with the idea of giving it the go-by, better figure what you're up against!

It's big, certainly — six-persons roomy and two-tons hefty as it takes to the road.

But take a look at the size of that bonnet — it isn't there just for show! It's filled to the brim with straight-eight power — and a very special kind of power at that.

For Buick's the only car on the road today that puts Fireball power under your treadle foot.

It's the only car in which pistons are specially shaped to roll each tiny fuel charge into a compact ball that lets loose with extra lift and surge.

And that means that this clean-lined flootster is exactly what it looks like — a star performer.

A nudge on the gas treadle — and it's gone with the wind.

A swing of the wheel, and this low-slung carriage takes curves with the ease and sureness of straightaways.

As for rough spots, even they won't slow you down, so smoothly does this beauty take all kinds of going in its stride.

You can see, of course, how steady it is. How the body rides level and unperturbed while four soft coil springs soak up the jars and jolts.

As for handling, well once you've tried it, we know exactly what you'll do.

You'll see the nearest Buick dealer, with or without a car to trade, and get a firm order in right now.

M'GRATH SEES NO REASON FOR WOES

Doesn't Believe Democrats Will Have Walkouts At Convention

WASHINGTON — Senator McGrath (R) said today he doesn't think there will be any reason for Southerners to take a walk at the Democratic convention.

McGrath, who heads the party's national committee, told a reporter he can't guess what will happen in the case of some states that have instructed their electors not to vote for President Truman.

"But I don't think there will be any reason for any delegation to walk out of the convention," he said.

McGrath's statement was taken as pointing to efforts at the Philadelphia meeting to compromise the civil rights issue.

Some southern delegations have threatened a walkout over Truman's demand for anti-lynching, anti-poll anti-segregation laws. This threat was renewed by a group of Dixie Democrats meeting at Jackson, Miss., yesterday.

The choice of Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania to head the party's platform committee—where the civil rights contestants will first come to verbal blows—lent weight to the compromise theory.

Myers, a supporter of the President's program, is regarded by colleagues as skilled in working out differences between opposing factions.

With McGrath's backing, he may elect to stand on the 1944 platform declaration that dealt with civil rights only in general terms.

However, the Republicans may try to step in to make it more difficult for the Democrats to get together.

The Senate GOP policy committee said yesterday it doubts Congress can end its work in time to adjourn June 19, two days before GOP convention meets in Philadelphia.

Chairman Taft (R-O) said a majority of the members seem to favor coming back in the two weeks between their own meeting and the opening of the Democratic gathering to take up several left-over issues.

Taft named civil rights legislation as one of these. And some Republicans hinted broadly that if they do come back, one of the GOP objectives will be this: To let southern Democrats filibuster a civil rights bill to serve notice to the country where opposition to what legislation comes from.

Against this, however, is the obvious reluctance of presidential aspirants such as Taft and House Speaker Joseph Martin (Mass.) to set themselves up as targets in Congress for Democratic opponents if one should win the GOP nomination.

Pick extra mileage
right out of the air!

EVER wonder how important it is for an engine to be able to breathe easily? Then just consider . . .

1. An efficient engine wants to "inhale" about 1,450 cubic feet of air with every gallon of gas. That's volume!

2. An eight-cylinder engine "inhales" as many as 240 times (or more) per second. That's frequency!

Now you know why "free-breathing" engine design is so important.

In the great new Packard

Eights, "free-breathing" design involves new streamlined valve design . . . improved carburetion . . . higher compression ratios.

And what does all this mean to the motorist? It means "safety-sprint" acceleration. Extra smoothness. And above all—a gain of up to 10% in fuel economy!

Come in—learn how Packard's "free-breathing" engine design lets you burn more sky . . . less gasoline!

Ruth Detwiler Is Bride In Columbiana Ceremony

At a beautiful wedding in First Methodist church, Columbiana, Miss Ruth C. Detwiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Detwiler, N. Elm st., Columbiana, became the bride of Eugene M. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Schmidt of Negley.

Nuptial music by Miss Catherine Johnson of Lima, college friend of the bride, as soloist, and Mrs. R. J. Barrow of Columbiana as organist, preceded the ceremony.

Dr. Paul L. Carter of Steubenville, superintendent of Steubenville Methodist district, officiated at the double ring service at 3:30 p. m.

The altar was banked with variegated ferns as a setting for bouquets of white and pastel gladioli and lighted by four seven-branch candelabras.

Escorted By Father

The lovely young bride, gowned in white satin with illusion veil, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Marge Hum of Columbiana, a close friend, maid of honor. Miss Jinny English of Urbana, O., roommate and sorority sister, and Miss Clenna Schmidt of Negley, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Little Jimmie Eyster of Oshkosh, Wis., served as ring bearer.

Her picturesque gown was fashioned with a round neckline embroidered in seed pearls, long pointed sleeves, tight fitted bodice with peplum and bouffant skirt with full length train. A sweetheart tiara held her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion. She carried white roses.

The attendant's marquisette gowns were made alike with scalloped bertha and bouffant skirts. Miss Hum was in yellow; Miss English and Miss Schmidt in pastel green. They carried arm bouquets of white daisies and carnations and wore daisy tiaras.

James Allard of East Palestine served Mr. Schmidt as best man, and ushering were Dale Young and Laurin Detwiler, brother of the bride, both of Columbiana. Jack Detwiler, younger brother of the bride, was junior usher.

A throng of relatives and friends congratulated the newlyweds at the reception in the church dining room. Mrs. Stewart Orr presided and was assisted by Mrs. Laurin Detwiler. Misses Lucille Fisher, Mary Jane Dewalt and Jean Sensenbacher, all of Columbiana.

The four-tiered cake, garlanded with pink and white flowers, was centered between lighted princess tapers. Mrs. C. M. McDonald of Alliance and Mrs. E. J. Barkley of Youngstown poured. Mrs. W. C. Eyster of Oshkosh, Wis., served the cake.

Mrs. Detwiler received in a summer print crepe with white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses and carnations. Mrs. Schmidt, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in light blue crepe and wore a pink rose and carnation corsage.

The former Miss Detwiler graduated from Columbiana High school, attended Ohio Wesleyan university two years and is now at Ohio State university where she is majoring in home economics.

Mr. Schmidt, who spent more than three years in the Navy serving 32 months in the South Pacific, is a graduate of East Palestine High school, and is a senior at Ohio State university.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt will be at home at 373 E. 13th st., Columbus, Ohio.

For traveling, Mrs. Schmidt wore an aqua summer suit with white accessories and corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were present from Lisbon, Salem, Alliance, Canton, Akron, Ashtabula, Urbana, Youngstown, Steubenville, Lima, Jackson, East Palestine, Negley, Vermillion, Cleveland, Warren, New Waterford and London, Ohio; Brownsville, Curtsville and Van Port, Pa., and Oshkosh, Wis.

Know Your Golf Shots

No. 1 of a Series
By HERMAN BARRON
Written Especially for AP
Newsfeatures

SO YOU'RE satisfied with your golf game. Well, that's fine. In that case there's no use reading what I have to say. It never pays to have anyone tamper with your game — providing you're getting satisfaction and results.

However, many golfers — even the top pros — often become discouraged with the way things are going. Sometimes a golfer's putting is off. Sometimes he feels his drives are not what they should be. Or maybe he is bothered about his iron shots.

A disgruntled golfer is like a person in ill health. The sick person generally goes to his doctor and the disgruntled golfer—well, he either gets out on a course and practices or he sees a professional for instruction. The club pro is like the doctor. Both can help you better than you can help yourself.

But on with our golf game. Let's start from the beginning with the driver. Take a few practice swings. Make a full turn of your hips and shoulders on the backswing. Do this several times.

Then try to accentuate the following through in the forward swing. This will give you a maximum amount of distance and direction.

Now you're ready to address the ball. Take a square stance and fix the position of your feet so that the ball is played off the left heel. Your hands should be even with the ball. This way the hands will be slightly ahead of the clubhead.

Relaxation of balance is important, too. Keep your weight balanced and both legs very relaxed with your feet spread no more than the width of your shoulders.

Of course, the position of the hands are very important. I prefer the regular overlapping Vardon grip. It's the one used by the majority of your star pros and amateurs.

But remember! Start your backswing by pushing your left hand back and coordinating a full turn of your hips and shoulders. And try to hold your head still through the complete swing.

If you're having trouble off the tee you will notice the change almost immediately. You'll be hitting the ball straighter and longer.

TOMORROW—The No. 4 wood.

TELEVISION IDEA WORRIES MINORS, FRANK LANE SAYS

Not Opposed To New Fangled Thing, But Wants Limits

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS—Frank Lane, well-muscled proxy of the American association, crossed his feet on the desk in his pent-house office, leaned back in his chair and said: "Yes Sir, I believe a major league can invade minor league territory through the air as well as on the ground."

He went on to say that "while I'm definitely not against this new fangled thing called television, I do intend to fight wholesale invasion of minor league territories through relayed broadcasts of major league contests."

Lane is chairman of a minor league committee named by President George M. Trautman of the minors to survey the effect of television on baseball.

The Triple-A president is assembling opinions and reports from all the 58 minor league clubs on television as it is currently affecting and will in the future likely affect our operation. He said he was aware, also, of "the huge number of cases where radio broadcasts of major league contests are being piped direct or by rebroadcast into the very backyard of minor league clubs."

"Such practices, it allowed to continue," Lane said, "are very apt to prove disastrous to our smaller clubs. I am definitely of the opinion that radio or television accounts or reproductions of major league games into minor league territory should be only by permission of the minor league concerned."

Lane said the major league rules on broadcasting do not take cognizance of the radio-television problem of the minors, but that his committee would bring it to the attention of the major-league executive committee July 11 at St. Louis.

"The major leagues either own or control over 75 per cent of the minor league clubs and I'm sure they will not turn a deaf ear to our problem as well," Lane said.

The National Association of Professional Baseball league agreement declares that each club "shall have control of its territory," and cites that territorial protection shall cover the entire area within the limits of each city in which a franchise is granted and operated, and in addition all territory in all directions from said city limits.

Clubs violating the territorial rights are subject to a fine of $750.

Poland Riders Nip Salem 10-7 Sunday

Salem's Polo team went down 10-7 before Poland at Poland Sunday afternoon. The game was delayed almost an hour due to the poor condition of Poland's grassless field.

Jim Pidgeon led the Salem riders in scoring, but the exceptional play of Willie Smith, who failed to score but set up many a tally, won equal plaudits from the fans and players.

Nord was high for Poland. Salem led 7-6 early in the final period but dropped behind as Poland rallied for four quick scores.

For each offense. Although the major leagues have not agreed to the National association's territorial setup and penalty plan, Lane believes the "air invasion" violates the spirit of the rule, if not the rule itself, he said.

"I believe," Lane continued, "that minor league teams should, if they see fit in their area, allow their own games to be televised for a year or so in order to determine the possible benefits."

"This additional medium of advertising baseball might well result in greater popularity for the game. Some corners have mistakenly believed our committee to be a 'down with television' group, which emphatically is not the case."

SALEM GRIDDERS TO MEET WARREN

Will Vie Against Powerful Harding High In Sept. 10 Preview Contest

Salem High school's 1948 football team will brush up on pre-season rehearsals Friday, Sept. 10, with a 15-minute practice fray against always powerful Warren, it was announced today by officials of the Niles football preview.

Ben Barrett, Salem High coach, attended the scheduling meeting in Niles Thursday and reported that besides Salem, Girard will play Newton Falls, East Palestine will tangle with Hubbard, Niles will meet Youngstown Fitch and Kent State university's team will test Geneva college.

All games will be 15 minutes in length, Salem scheduled to play the final game of the evening.

It is planned that a gala band show will be included in the program with a possibility that the Cleveland Brown Majorettes will perform.

Capture Honors In Nine Best Hole Golf Tourneys; Buckholdt - Gonda Win

N. A. Pedersen, with a net 25, and Frank Beauregard, whose handicap brought his best nine to 27, won the Class B and A, respectively, nine best hole tournament (half handicap allowed) at the Salem Golf club Saturday and Sunday.

In a special Sunday feature, with 12 men and 12 women participating, Bob Buckholdt and Mrs. John Gonda won the low gross prize in the Scotch foursome while Clarence Hartsough and Mrs. Albert Kauman won the low net, scoring 49 less 15 handicap for 34. The low gross was 44.

In the nine best hole tourney, second place in the Class B division was divided three ways with Ed Kennedy (36-8-27), Al Puhn (36-9-27) and H. A. Wolfe of Lisbon (44-17-27) tying.

O. A. Naragon and Jimmy Wingard tied for second honors in Class A. Naragon shooting 36, less seven handicap for a 23 and Wingard 35 less six handicap for a similar score.

Finishing up the first round matches in the June handicap tourney, one of the club's three major tournaments of the season, always threatening Rudy Schuster, club champion last year, edged Fred E. Cope 5 and 4. The match was played over a two-day span, the rain interrupting play Saturday and the final nine being played off Sunday morning.

Walter Deming, in mid-season form, eliminated Gene Sommers, another low handicap player, five and four. Sommers, incidentally, fired one of the best scores of the year Saturday in non-match play, hitting a 35-37 for a two over par 72. The low score came at the wrong time.

In a match that drew considerable interest Dick Greene defeated Ed Knox one up. Greene scored a 43-42, 85 and Knox a 46-41, 87. Greene now meets Eddie Pukalski in second round play.

One of the tourneys favorites, Dr. Dick Harwood, who hasn't hit top form yet, was eliminated Sunday by Steve Ross, four and three.

In Class B flights, Jim Britt continued his creditable golf by defeating Johnnie Holzworth four and three. John Gonda had a thrilling match with Howard Albertson, winning one up.

Art Haessly won his match with R. Blair two and one and Dr. M. Sandrock eliminated Henry L. Reese five and three.

Among the best of the low scores in non-tourney play over the weekend was the 37-45 fired by Clarence Yates, one of his lowest scores in years. His two over par for the first nine is unusually good for a 17-handicap player.

ALLIANCE OUTFIT EDGES SALEM A. C. IN 3-INNING RALLY

Alliance's Negro American Legion baseball team came through Sunday afternoon with an 8-7 margin over the Salem A. C. at the A. C. field.

Alliance managed the exciting victory in the 10th inning after coming from behind to tie the score in the eighth and ninth frames. Until then Salem had held a 7-1 lead, which slithered away quickly.

The Lisbon Merchants will battle the Salem VFW at 6 p. m. today at the park.

AMVETS LOSE 1ST AGAINST N. CASTLE

Lose First Game In 10 Tries In Special Game at Idora Park by 5-3 Margin

The district's only undefeated baseball team, the Salem Amvets, tasted defeat for the first time Sunday against a potent New Castle outfit by a 5-3 difference.

New Castle got off to a fast start, scoring four times in the first inning. The Amvets couldn't scratch the surface until the fifth, when two runs came across. Both teams added one in the eighth.

Paul Stratton helped the local cause with a four bagger, one of eight hits Salem managed. New Castle collected nine.

Legion Juniors Card Home Tries

Two games have been scheduled by the Salem American Legion Junior baseball team, to be played here in successive Fridays, Manager C. M. Brautigam announced today.

The squad will travel to East Palestine for a tilt Wednesday night, will return Friday to entertain Girard and then tangle again with Palestine on Friday, June 25.

In addition, the team has been entered in the East Palestine Legion Junior tournament, to be held from June 28 to July 5. It will meet a good Elyria nine in its first start at 3:30 p. m. July 2.

Other first round games match Cambridge and Girard, East Palestine and Fallston, Beaver Falls and Lorain, East Liverpool and Leavittsburg, Ellwood City and Hanoverton and Youngstown and Cadiz.

Brautigam asked all Salem players, who have been issued uniforms, to bring their birth certificates with them to practice at 5:45 tonight at Centennial park.

CARTOONIST DIES IN NEW YORK HOTEL

NEW YORK, June 14—Harry J. Keys, 55, veteran cartoonist for the Columbus, O., dispatch, was found dead in a Hotel Lexington room yesterday.

Police listed the case as an apparent suicide, but said they were unable to determine the cause of death immediately.

His wife, Ruth, 58, was in a critical condition today from what authorities described as "possible barbiturate poisoning." She was found unconscious on a bed in their room. Keys' body, clad only in a bath robe, was between the beds.

Keys was a native of Alliance, O.

THREE WAYS GIVEN TO SELECT YOUR HOUSE BUILDER

Urges Planners To Pick Contractor Who Can Be Trusted

Selection of the contractor to build your house is one of the biggest decisions you'll be called upon to make.

If you live in a small community, where there is only one builder, you can't get competitive bids. But you may have the compensating advantage of knowing the contractor, knowing that he is honest and will have to live in the same community with his handiwork. This is an assurance.

In any place it is highly important to pick a builder you can trust.

Generally there are three ways to select your contractor.

1. Competitive bidding.
2. Cost-plus.
3. Upset price contract.

The first method gives you a lump sum contract. You know where you're at and what you'll get. Your architect will invite builders to bid. Each will be given a set of blueprints and specifications. It will take them two to four weeks to figure the job.

If you are bidding with stock plans and without the supervision of an architect, you will have to deal with the builders and buy enough sets of plans for all bidders.

Each builder will have to get his own bids from subcontractors for all special work, such as excavation, plumbing, heating, electrical work, plastering, painting, and so on. To these he will add his own costs, overhead and profit. This estimating costs them a lot of time, so don't ask for bids from any builder who wouldn't deal with if his bid were agreeable.

Low bidder gets the job—providing he is financially responsible to swing it.

Under such lump sum contracts, monthly bills usually call for 15 percent less than the amount of work finished. That margin is held back until completion of the job to prevent an irresponsible builder from jumping his contract. If he did drop the job, all unpaid workers could file liens, and you'd have to pay them.

The second method of picking your builder, common in times of changing price levels and unsettled labor conditions, is the cost-plus contract. You agree to pay all costs plus the contractor's overhead and profit. This relieves the builder of most responsibility. It can mean that he won't care where costs go, because he is sure of his profit. However, you at least will know ahead of time how much he makes.

The third way—if you can get it—is not to call for bids at all, but to ask a builder you know to figure his "field cost plus profit." This is the upset price contract.

The builder estimates how much it will cost him to build your house. That is the field cost. He will include his own overhead expense, or list it as an additional 5 to 10 percent of that cost. Then you ask him if he will take the job on that total cost plus 10 percent profit.

One advantage of this upset price contract is that if the builder's field cost runs higher than his estimate, the difference must come out of his profit. On the other hand, if he is able to save on the field cost, the saving will be divided between you.

In this way it behooves the builder to keep costs down.

Copper Tubing Replaces Iron Pipe

AN INNOVATION in new homes construction is the use of copper pipe for waste and vent pipes. Introduced by the J. R. Stratton plumbing company, N. Broadway, the copper tubing does away with the iron pipe commonly used.

The advantages are that the copper is cheaper than iron and more durable. Because the inside of the copper pipe is smooth there is less likelihood of clogging.

An attractive feature of the copper tubing is its adaptability to new homes construction. Six-inch partitions are no longer needed since the smaller pipe fits easily between two-by-fours as shown in the above photograph. Lawrence Hinton of the J. R. Stratton firm installed these in the F. M. Woodworth home on N. Ellsworth ave. A three-inch copper pipe is equal to a four-inch iron pipe.

Att'y Day Claims Tax Reduction Low

CLEVELAND—Panic among Ohio county officials caused by recent Ohio Supreme court decisions affecting taxation of industrial property is "misplaced," Attorney Rufus S. Day Jr. claims.

Day, an attorney for Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, was first in the state to win a supreme court ruling reclassifying industrial equipment as personal property instead of real estate. The reclassification resulted in taxing the equipment at 50 per cent of its valuation instead of 100 per cent.

Lorain county officials, claiming the result would be bankruptcy of Ohio's industrial counties, have spearheaded a fight aimed at remedying the situation. A delegation of county officials called on Governor Thomas J. Herbert last week to request a special session of the state legislature to consider the problem.

Day, however, said there is no problem. A pending survey, he added, shows that in Ohio's 16 leading industrial counties, the decrease in the tax duplicate cannot exceed three per cent.

"The decrease will be more than offset this year by increases due to new industrial installations," he claimed. He said that since most real estate in Ohio is valued, for tax purposes, at a low percentage of true value, taxing manufacturing equipment at 50 per cent of "true value" will change the picture but little.

The real problem with which the legislators should be concerned, Day said, is statewide uniform valuation of all property for tax purposes. This is of more concern than the classification problem, he claimed, because under certain recent laws, more state aid is granted to counties with low tax duplicates at the expense of other counties.

Foster, who lives near Coshocton, O. On June 1, she was brought to Children's Memorial hospital. Scores of children have undergone surgery to alleviate "blue baby" ailments.

"Blue babies" are those whose lungs receive insufficient blood. Their skin becomes bluish. Surgeons sometimes are able to correct the condition by grafting blood. Foster girl was operated on to determine whether surgery might be successful. This disclosed that Roberta has no pulmonary artery supplying blood to the lungs. As a result, she cannot undergo corrective surgery.

Physicians said that only in eight of 115 "blue baby" cases reported have children been found to have no pulmonary artery.

Roberta expects to be home in a week. The girl said she was anxious to get back so she can keep up her piano practicing.

Glows In Dark

Thousands of men are alive today because night visibility and the use of luminescent paints and black lights were developed to a high degree during World War II. In modern warfare, particularly at night, men must be able to see what they are doing, where they are going, and this is often a matter of life or death—without being seen by the enemy.

The use of brilliant lights, therefore, was out of question. Such lights can be seen by hostile observers, exposing troops, planes, ships and supplies to enemy bombing or other action. With luminescent paints and "black" light, the light emitted was kept at such low levels that eyes had to become dark adapted or used to the dark before it was visible, and then only at close quarters. Anyone out of the range of a comparatively few feet could not see the lights, thus precluding detection by the enemy. Yet, to eyes that were completely dark adapted, even small markings on instrument dials, charts, maps, computers, instruction plates, signs and printed matter on planes, aboard ships and in the field of action were clearly visible and distinguishable. Thus pilots, for example, were able to fly their planes over enemy territory efficiently and without danger of being "given away" by bright lights.

Several airlines have adopted luminescent instruments for night flying in this country and on foreign flights. In addition, luminescent paints are being used for the decoration of homes, theatres, night clubs, dance halls, and for advertising, displays, signs, and home safety devices such as switchplates and nightlights that glow in the dark.

INCENTIVE PLAN BETTER, IS CLAIM

WASHINGTON, June 14—James F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric Co., Cleveland, declares that most of labor and industry are using an inefficient system of wage rates based on time worked instead of production.

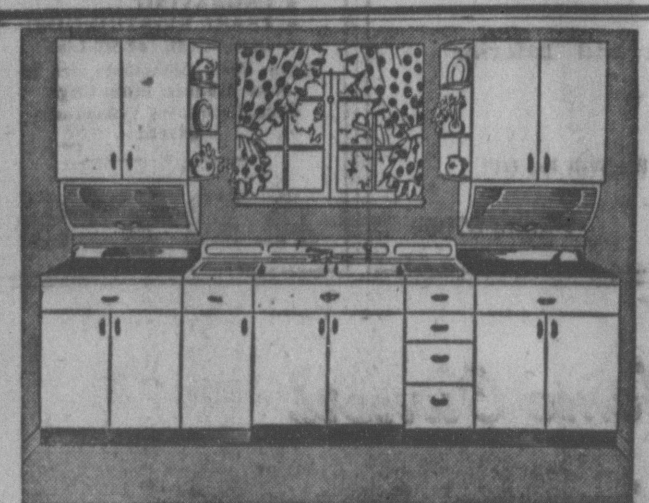

In a statement prepared for the joint congressional labor committee, he said incentive pay systems would increase both wages and production. "The one fundamental difficulty with the present almost universal approach to labor-management relations is that labor is paid on the wrong basis," he said.

"Wages generally are paid for the presence of the worker in the plant instead of paying for the work he does. This is so obviously a mistake that it seems childish to mention it."

Hot Iron Rack Suggested

Build a special nook for your iron, lined with asbestos and with a metal grille shelf where it can be stored at any heat without hazards. The door of this niche is a good spot for racks to store ironing cords, since the cord should never be left near the heated iron where insulation softens and the cover becomes singed. There is a new type iron holder that can be installed on the wall and holds the iron securely when not in use.

Occasional small-piece ironing that doesn't need the ironer or large board can be done in the kitchen on a short, narrow board built to swing out from beneath work counters or snack bar. With or without a bracing leg, this miniature board will save time and trouble in single piece pressing.

How does your house keep that freshly painted look?

DuPont No. 40 Outside White CLEANS ITSELF!

Your House will always look fresh and white when painted with Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint. For dirt and grime don't become embedded—the rains just wash them away. The paint remains sparkling clean and new-looking!

Self-Cleaning Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) and stains from copper screens may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

Self-Cleaning Du Pont No. 40 Outside White House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful. It protects against rust, rot and decay—giving lasting beauty and protection. Yet it costs no more than other good paints. Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs. He'll be glad to use Du Pont House Paint. Also available in tinted colors.

Modern Kitchens Can Still Be Cozy

In spite of the added convenience of new equipment and ready-made cabinets give today's kitchens some folks feel a little sad about the old-fashioned one that was such a cozy spot. True, brilliant new linoleums, fabrics, paint and tile do a lot to counteract the staid look of stark white or ivory appliances. But if you'd like to soften some of the sharp angles and hard surfaces without destroying efficiency, call in a carpenter who's handy with saw. With a few original ideas of your own and his ingenuity you can give modern kitchen new friendliness that will take it out of the class of mere food factory. Try framing windows all around in wooden cornices with scalloped, beveled or scroll edges, or even a row of narrow lattice work, with or without sheer glass curtains they depart from the stiff pattern of unrelieved rectangles. Trade your ordinary half-glass door for a solid one painted a bright color. Have your carpenter cut a small, glass covered window at eye-level in some unusual shape and you can see who's knocking. Your back door could be a Dutch type, too, decorated with colorful designs. An exterior door can repeat the same theme.

Adds Gay Touch
Curtains, lattices or louveres in wooden cabinet doors add a gay touch and backing curtains with plastic screening will preserve their function of protecting supplies or ornaments. Conceal tubular lights behind cornices that are keyed to other designs, either above sink, stove or counter areas. More features to "cozy" your kitchen are shelves of blossoming plants and ferns, unusual plates on narrow racks, a small cork bulletin board for recipes, menus or household notes. Brackets built one above the other on a narrow wall can hold antique cups of glasses filled with berries.

Try using a hinged table in the breakfast nook which can be pulled up out of the way, the exposed back being a shallow magazine rack. Deep troughs built onto the arms of nook seats hold paper napkins, keys, etc. And if the family can't find your bar-type snack table comfortable, have it and the stools cut down to table height and add backs to the stools. If it's been so narrow add drop leaves at each end, even 6 or 8 inches wide, to give more elbow room.

Remember, make the kitchen as pleasant and inviting as you can because it's one room you have to live with every day, morning, noon and night.

Entertain Guests In Your Basement

More and more people are making use of the basement as a casual room for entertaining guests or for their own relaxation. It can be made attractive with a minimum of expense and not only has a cozy appeal but saves extra wear and tear on the first floor.

Wallboard partitions for enclosing the utility part of the basement need not extend to the full height of the area, and can be made of lattice work if desired. The concrete floor may be painted with a good prepared paint or covered with asphalt tile. Walls can match or contrast in color. If adequate ventilation is a problem, install a small exhaust type fan in one of the windows. A fan of this type will also serve to distribute heat evenly from the furnace area and eliminate chilly corners.

Exposed pipes that may cause uncomfortable dripping can be coated with a special compound to prevent this sweating. A ceiling of wallboard or lattice to match partitions will give your basement a more finished appearance.

For economy you can furnish it with old furniture that has been cleaned and repainted or upholstered. Use built-ins for added accommodations or as seats, tables or cupboards. It's one spot you can let your imagination run riot because it's strictly for fun, one room the whole family will enjoy.

If your basement is more prized as a store-room, you can still make space for a play area by building a long row of cabinets or lockers whose back will form one wall of the rumpus room. By organizing space in this manner things will not only be easier to find but stay in better condition and allow you extra use for the basement area.

Docks Closed

LORAIN, June 14—The Baltimore & Ohio's coal and ore docks will be closed today because of a dispute over overtime pay for work on Saturdays. The announcement was made by members of the AFL International Longshoremen's union. The workers assured G. W. Blanton, dock superintendent, that they would be back at their posts tomorrow morning.

Chicago contains 1365 hotels with a total of 135,400 rooms, of which 35,000 are transient rooms.

First railroad in the United States was opened in 1830.

For A Little Girl

This attractive combination bed-playroom would be a delightful setting for any little girl. The yellow leatherette headboard furnishes a striking note of contrast to the cream brown walls and floor covering. Bedspread, pillow sham and draperies are made of easy-to-care-for-seersucker—white ground with yellow stripes and clusters of daisies. Mattress, spring and pillow are of good, firm construction so necessary to the proper support of a growing child.

PAVING OF COUNTY LINE ROAD NEAR COLUMBIANA TO BEGIN THIS WEEK

COLUMBIANA, June 14—Work on the paving of County Line road from Route 46 east to Route 7, about two miles, is to begin Tuesday or Wednesday, the Natural Gas Co. has been informed.

The gas company's line on the north side of the road will have to be relocated, the work of which it will begin as soon as the grade is established.

The road will be paved with a bituminous top a width of 20 feet under a co-operative agreement between the Mahoning and Columbiana county commissioners made at a meeting in city hall here last fall. Several small culverts were put in last winter by the Mahoning county road department, which will do the work under terms of the agreement.

The highway marks not only the boundary between the counties, but the north corporation line of Columbiana from Route 46 nearly to the Y. & S. railway.

Former Pastor Sails

Rev. Walter C. Eyster and family of Oshkosh, Wis., arrived in Columbiana Friday, and Rev. Eyster left the same evening for New York, whence he sailed Saturday with a Methodist youth caravan for Europe. Rev. Eyster is a former pastor of First Methodist church here, and is now at the head of the youth work in the Wisconsin area. Mrs. Eyster and children remained here for a short visit before returning to Oshkosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kramer will

Platform Builder

Ticklish job of heading the Democratic national convention's platform-writing committee will probably fall to Sen. Francis J. Myers, of Pennsylvania. The committee will have to draft a plank on racial discrimination that will keep rebellious southerners from walking out and at the same time conform to President Truman's requested civil rights legislation.

BENDER NOW SURE OF FREIGHT EXCESSES

WASHINGTON, June 14—Chairman George H. Bender, of a house expenditures subcommittee is convinced "more than ever" that railroads and truck lines overcharged the government about $600,000,000 on wartime freight.

The Ohio Republican said his subcommittee finished today the last of a series of closed hearings that started in April. He will make a formal report on the investigation in several days.

Bender charged earlier in the investigation not only that the carriers overcharged the government but that the general accounting office let much of the excess get by.

"I feel now, more than ever, that I was right," Bender told a reporter.

A subcommittee aid said testimony showed the accounting office caught only about $350,000,000 of the excess charges.

Charges Coal Operators Angle For "Lock-Out"

WASHINGTON — A southern coal operator said today he suspects some coal operators are "angling for a lock-out" in contract talks with John L. Lewis in order to raise coal prices again.

H. K. Cook of Knoxville, Tenn., offered the opinion that "the stalemate (in negotiations) is presently caused by the asinine attitude that Charles O'Neil, spokesman for the National Coal Operators' group, is taking on the freezing of the 1947 welfare fund account."

Lewis and his United Mine Workers have been deadlocked with soft coal operators over pension fund payments in their efforts to agree on a new contract. The present contract expires June 30.

You say Used Fats are still needed?

You bet they are, Mrs. Housewife. We wish we could whisper over your shoulder every time you cook . . . to scrape that pan, skim that stew, melt down those meat trimmings . . . every trick you know, to get more fat. That's how serious this world-wide shortage of fats and oils is, according to government reports.

Yes! And You Get Paid For Them!

Used fats are the only kitchen "leftover" you can turn into cash . . . and cash is mighty handy these days of stiff food prices. So don't throw out even a few drops of used fats. Every bit, even what's left after you've reused your fats, is worth saving . . . to help your country, and to help you!
